Property Management Services

One of the most important services that Andrew Semple Florida and Greenfield provide are property management services. A real estate investment is only a good one if the tenants in the property are happy, want to be there, and continue to pay their rent on time. The team with Greenfield works hard to ensure that they offer great property management services, which will ensure the building stays in good condition and the tenant base is happy.

Medical Products

The COVID-19 pandemic had a major impact on the world. One of the struggles early on was that healthcare properties and professionals did not have access to the protective equipment that they needed to provide safe care. Andrew Semple was able to make necessary connections to medical suppliers in Asia, which were used to bring more equipment to the United States, which was a significant advantage when it comes to the fight against the virus.

Anyone that is looking to invest for their future should consider investing through Andrew Semple and the rest of the Greenfield Agencies team. When you invest through these companies, you can earn a good return on investment while also knowing that you are providing value for those that are in need of capital and a safe place to live.
