Also there's a good news. The launching of her art extensions went successful including the revolutionized way of collecting art.

You'll never know what's behind the road until you cross. Don't let fear snatch your goals.”

Buying for your home and commercial wall decors is a great way to fix that grumpy mood. But some people don't want to buy too expensive due to tight budgets. For the love of art, the professional and international artist, QN is focusing on releasing original curated and carefully picked one of a kind artworks around the globe and providing efficient way to shop artworks in different forms and shapes with embedded digital microchip-like QR codes on the certificates of authenticity that are easily scanned by the collector to preserve and protect authenticity of the artist's work. How cool is that?
