

Diddy Moves into the Digital Age and One Black-Owned Platform is Already Ahead of the Tech Curve

The Relationship Concierge is more than a reminder service, it is your indispensable digital friend.

COLUMBUS, OH, UNITED STATES, June 7, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Music Mogul, Sean 'Diddy' Combs, made headlines this week as the multimillion-dollar investor jumped into the online arena releasing a Black-owned business meeting place. But one digital pioneer is ahead of the wave of celebrity support now embracing the power of Black businesses — meet Dominique Johnson, founder, and CEO of The Relationship Concierge, an innovative app merging special life events and the marketplace. This discerning application program is a lightning rod to the industry, setting the world of virtual reminders on fire through its innovative calendar system, and rich cadre of vendors.

The Relationship Concierge is more than a reminder service, it is your indispensable digital friend.

This woman-owned business is upending the norms of benign calendar platforms by adding a distinct flair and usefulness. The Relationship Concierge breaks free from the roar of this crowded field by adding a layer of community awareness and targeted connections. Johnson believes it is her mission to provide a digital space where business owners of Black and brown hues can establish long-lasting partnerships and reach a new constituency. Along with her team of talented graphic designers and web developers, Johnson created an experience which leaves the user asking, "how did I ever live without this service?"

According to the National Center for Women & Information Technology, Black women are underrepresented in the tech world, making up only 3% of the computing and mathematical workforce in 2019. The numbers may not be on her side, but Johnson is breaking through the old boys' club to create a one-of-a-kind experience for her users. This African American beauty pulls on her Liberian roots of strength and perseverance to provide a haven for Black-owned businesses to flourish.

Every click of this app displays Johnson's attention for detail. Using state-of-the-art technology, and an eye for her consumers, Johnson built a system that understands the needs of its users even before the user knows it. The Relationship Concierge sends a notification two weeks prior to a special event and then offers access to its curated vendor list to choose an appropriate gift. The intuitive, customer-centered platform never lets you forget a birthday, anniversary, baby shower, or bris. Not only does the app send reminders, but it also goes one step further to create customized e-cards — and it will even handle the shopping, too.

The Relationship Concierge is your best friend, savvy shopper, and digital butler, all rolled up into one user friendly app.
