

Brilliant Miller Releases Video Podcast Interview with Tony Bartelme

Tony Bartelme is a Pulitzer Prize nominee, storyteller, journalist, and author of A Surgeon in the Village: An American Doctor Teaches Brain Surgery in Africa.

SANDY, UT, UNITED STATES, June 10, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tony Bartelme recently spent five months in Tanzania in order to capture and tell the story of brilliant brain surgeon Dilan Ellegala, which began with a post-residency vacation and ended with a revolution of Tanzania's medical training programs. Tony documented Dilan's story in a book which he titled A Surgeon in the Village: An American Doctor Teaches Brain Surgery in Africa.

In this interview for the School for Good Living Podcast, Tony Bartelme joins Brilliant Miller to discuss the impact that a single individual can have, especially the amazing change wrought out by surgeon Dilan Ellagala in Tanzania. They talk about the global shortage of doctors and the immense number of lives that could be saved each year if they only had access to proper surgical care. They also touch on the importance of teaching, and the passing on of our knowledge for the betterment of others. Lastly, they discuss Tony's unique writing and reporting process.

Failure is a gift, as long as you learn from it.”

Tony Bartelme
