After months of extensive preparation, Magic Cup Cafe—a community-oriented, multicultural brand known for its hand-crafted boba tea, coffee, and smoothie beverages—is finally opening a brand-new franchise in McKinney, TX.

Located at 7701 Stacy Rd., Suite 100, the McKinney cafe will welcome customers starting this June, bringing Magic Cup's trademark selection of naturally flavored, internationally inspired bubble tea and novelty drinks to the Dallas-Fort Worth (DFW) area for the very first time. The location will also feature a drive-through (and will be the only boba shop in the region to do so), allowing for safe and easy pickup as Texas continues to navigate the ongoing pandemic.

Upon making the announcement, Magic Cup co-founder and COO My Lynn Nguyen expressed her immense excitement at the McKinney expansion. "We're thrilled to be a part of McKinney's diverse community, and we so look forward to bringing a wide variety of high-quality ingredients and one-of-a-kind recipes to Stacy Rd. We believe our friendly, knowledgeable staff, our warm, inviting atmosphere, and our fresh, made-to-order drinks will be a fabulous McKinney fit."

McKinney franchise owner Chi Tran echoed Nguyen's sentiments, saying she and partner Tam T Trinh were drawn to the city thanks to its multicultural vibe and abundant food scene. "McKinney won us over because of the diversity of the crowd," Tran noted, adding, "The city doesn't have many boba shops, so we really wanted to introduce Magic Cup Cafe to the area. We feel our eclectic menu and fun, family-friendly environment will make us an ideal spot for McKinney residents to sit, sip, and pass some enjoyable time."

Magic Cup McKinney will be celebrating its Grand Opening on June 12 and will operate Monday through Sunday from 10am to 11pm.
