

Agenda Released for SMi Group's Airborne ISR 2021 Conference in October

SMi Group reports: Registration and the agenda are now available for the Airborne ISR Conference in London this October.

LONDON, UK, June 11, 2021

/EINPresswire.com/ -- SMi Group is delighted to host in London on the 20th and 21st October 2021 the 6th Airborne ISR Conference partnered with Gold Sponsors General Atomics Aeronautical Systems and Leonardo.

The two-day conference will focus on the platforms and supporting infrastructures of Airborne ISR operations, covering a range of topics involving manned and unmanned platforms, as well as data management and dissemination tools.

As well as the extraordinary capabilities of the systems, the event will examine these platforms and their information context, with a host of international senior military and industry experts discussing how an array of platforms are transferring data into operational intelligence.

For those interested in attending, there is a £200 early bird discount available until 30th June 2021. Register at <http://www.airborne-isr.net/pr1>
