

Energy Forum welcome key investors, public and private stakeholders for revolutionary interactive business development

Latin America Energy Forum (24 June – 1 July) will host investors and public & private stakeholders from LATAM's energy sector for interactive digital meetings

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, June 14, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The 5th Latin America Energy Forum will take place from 24th June – 1st July, hosting investors and public and private stakeholders across Latin America's energy sector in a series of highly interactive digital boardrooms.

The US Development Finance Institution (DFC), Naturgas, OLADE, IEA, USTDA, EIB, CAF and Naturgas

alongside high-level government representatives from Brazil, Colombia, Paraguay, Chile, Trinidad and Tobago, Panama, Guatemala and Grenada will join the Forum to discuss the finance and funding of energy projects in Latin America, in light of the new US Administrations, and to explore the adoption of innovative technology in the sector.

The participants will join individual boardrooms with limited attendance, engaging in a more focused dialogue with cornerstone stakeholders and key members of the value chain in LATAM and the US.

"The Latin America Energy Forum (LAEF) has always been an excellent venue for us to convene with important Latin American and global power sector stakeholders and discuss strategic, operational and technological concerns that shape the future of the energy industry in Latin America and beyond." James Shepherd, CEO, Altaaqa Global Energy Services, Forum Sponsor.

The Forum also confirms the following participants:

- H.E Honorable Gregory Bowen, Minister, Ministry of Finance, Economic Development, Physical Development and Energy, Grenada
