Do More with Your Voice

Thanks to the integrated Google Assistant, your Nokia Streaming Box 8000 remote control can listen and react to your commands. Just ask Google to find YouTube videos, the latest blockbuster movie or make recommendations that match your mood and your options will appear on screen. Google Assistant can even help you search for the weather or nearest restaurant or other information by using a browser app.

Easy set up and pure design

The Nokia Streaming Box 8000 is easy to set up with Plug & Play and works with any TV that has an HDMI or analogue audio video port. For easy connectivity, simply plug in the power adapter, connect the Streaming Box to your TV and Internet and get started. The Nokia Streaming Box features a compact and elegant design and comes with an ergonomically shaped backlit remote control that feels smooth in your hand and helps identify the right button, even if the lights are out.

Endless entertainment

The Nokia Streaming Box 8000 is equipped to play content in 4K UHD (Ultra High Definition), ensuring high contrast, rich colours and a detailed display, for perfect home entertainment. The Nokia Streaming Box has Chromecast built-in, which enables you to wirelessly connect your smartphone, tablet or laptop and stream your favourite YouTube video or other content directly to your TV. Another advantage of the Nokia Streaming Box 8000 is that - unlike conventional TVs - customers do not have to rely on live content. Streamed content can be started, stopped and paused at any time. The Nokia Streaming Box stops where the video was interrupted and resumes it later at the same point. Whether you are looking for a new series or just want to continue watching a movie where you left off - the content can be accessed at any time.

If you enjoy a big screen gaming experience or you prefer typing your input on the TV screen, the Nokia Streaming Box 8000 enables gaming controllers or keyboards to be connected easily via Bluetooth. And while built-in Chromecast allows seamless streaming from a range of mobile devices, the Nokia Streaming Box also features an HDMI, USB-A/-C, optical audio and a LAN port to connect all kinds of additional devices.

Pricing and availability

The Nokia Streaming Box 8000 is available as of today in the United Arab Emirates at specialist retailers for a recommended retail price of 99 USD (including VAT).
