

New Memberships at Prime IV Hydration & Wellness (Riverwoods - Provo, Utah) Help Customers Achieve Health Goals

Memberships at Prime IV - Riverwoods can help with your health goals and ensure you continuously achieve optimal levels of hydration, vitamins, & minerals.

PROVO, UT, UNITED STATES, June 17, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Consistently engaging in healthy behaviors is the most effective way to improve your health, for life. One of the most effective healthy habits is IV therapy, proven to be beneficial for a number of conditions. A monthly membership for IV therapy at Prime IV Hydration & Wellness - Riverwoods (Provo, UT) allows you to select from a variety of great drips, offering rollovers and discounts to give you the incentive to be more consistent with your health. Prioritize your health and well-being, make IV therapy a habit, reap the rewards.

"Ask any truly healthy person what their secret is, and their answer will always include something about consistency," said Steve Smith, co-owner. "Why? Because you are the sum of all your habits. You're not going to get fit after one workout, you're not going to restore a nutrient deficiency after one supplement, nor are you going to heal your chronic migraines after one IV therapy session. Repetition + consistency = long term change."

Imagine you have a glass of water. Pour a bit out each time you're overworked, stressed, dehydrated, sleep-deprived, drinking alcohol, eating junk, and being sedentary. Your glass gets empty very quickly. When you add positive healthy habits to your life, you are metaphorically adding water to your cup, to counteract some of the negative, uncontrollable variables of your lifestyle. This is where Prime IV therapy comes in.

You can't wait until you're dehydrated, exhausted, overworked, stressed, and feeling like crap, and hope that one IV therapy session will make you feel 100% better. It might. But it is significantly more effective when you consistently do IV therapy, to make sure your glass never gets totally empty, because it's way harder to come back from.

Implementing healthy habits like regular IV therapy, exercise, stress management, drinking enough water, and sleeping 8 hours a night will compound together and transform your health, mental well-being, and longevity. You'll feel alive.

If you're not convinced, think of it this way – IV therapy involves pumping intravenous fluids into your veins, delivering a surge of vitamins and fluids to efficiently replenish and deeply hydrate your body at a cellular level. 92 percent of US adults have a vitamin deficiency. Vitamin deficiencies are associated with:

Our customers--particularly those with monthly memberships--seem to agree with the idea that 'feeling better just got easier.'"

Steve Smith, co-owner

- Brain fog
- Low energy
- Poor skin quality
- Dry hair and nails
- Low mood
- Increased susceptibility to illness
- Chronic pain

Amongst others. If you're experiencing a vitamin deficiency, which based on the statistics, you likely are – it's not enough to occasionally get IV therapy. It takes an estimated six to eight weeks to recover from a vitamin deficiency if consistent treatment is received. Doing IV therapy occasionally is not giving your body enough time and resources to achieve full benefits.

The quality of your health is defined by your regular habits. That is why we have created a Prime IV therapy membership, so our clients can enjoy regular treatments, set up seamlessly so you can focus on what matters: optimizing your health and well-being. If you're new to Prime IV therapy, here are the benefits of IV treatments:
