Angela L. Carr was recently nominated to serve as President of Defense Counsel of Rhode Island (DCRI).

DCRI is an association of attorneys that advances the interests of businesses and individuals in civil litigation. Members of DCRI include a variety of civil defense attorneys who practice both in corporate and firm settings. DCRI provides educational and support services for its members and advocates on legislative issues that impact the defense bar and the judicial system.

“DCRI is an important organization within Rhode Island’s legal community, and I am truly honored to be elected to serve as President,” said Angela Carr.

An accomplished civil litigator and trial attorney, Angela focuses her practice on medical and professional liability defense. She advises medical professionals, hospitals, medical practices, and other healthcare-related organizations in all stages of the litigation lifecycle. Angela provides skilled representation to health care providers before federal and state courts, administrative agencies, and licensing boards in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. In addition, she routinely consults with hospitals and healthcare practice groups on risk management and patient safety. Angela also represents students involved in Title IX investigations at local colleges.

In addition to her role with DCRI, Angela serves as the president of the Providence College Greater Providence Alumni Club, and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Providence College President's Council. She is a member of the Federation of Defense & Corporate Counsel. In 2015, she completed the Leadership Rhode Island (Lambda II Class) community leadership program.

Angela was named a 2019 Woman to Watch in Legal Services and a 2014 40 Under Forty by Providence Business News, a Lawyer of Professional Excellence by Rhode Island Monthly in 2020, a Rhode Island Super Lawyer Rising Star from 2012-2014 and Super Lawyer in 2015, and a Massachusetts Super Lawyer in 2017-2020.
