

The Worlds First Graphene & Most Advanced Polo Shirt --The POLO-X By Graphene-X -- Launched On Kickstarter

Empowered with the toughest but lightest material yet discovered, every seam on the Polo-X is laser-cut and welded, offering unrivaled levels of performance.

HONG KONG, June 23, 2021

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Graphene-X is launching its newest product, the POLO-X on Kickstarter. A graphene-enhanced men's polo shirt, that has superior wicking, cooling, breathability, and comfort due to the high-tech graphene fibers that Graphene-X has pioneered.

"There is no other shirt like the POLO-X. It is the most comfortable, high-performing, and functional shirt you can imagine." Says founder Jorge Barros, "We tried to put everything into this shirt, odor control, cooling fast-drying fabric technology, seamless laser cut for maximum comfort. It's an incredibly advanced multi-purpose polo shirt that feels great and delivers on the court, at home, or in a more formal setting."

The Kickstarter campaign launches on June 22nd, 2021, at 10 am EST time. This is the third Kickstarter campaign run by Graphene-X where they have achieved 100% shipping on time and a review rating of 4.95 out of 5 with over 3.000 Kickstarter backers from over 70 countries. graphene's promise to upgrade formulas when used as an additive. Graphene can be used to upgrade synthetic materials like fabrics and give them novel performance effects. Discovered in 2004, Awarded the Nobel Prize in 2010, and being commercialized now. Graphene has the potential to carry humanity forward via our own technological prowess.

About Graphene-X:

In 2017 we arrived at Hong Kong (we are made in Chile) and decided to solve a problem. On a mission to develop unparalleled all-round apparel sustained by materials science.

Become the brand that revolutionized the clothing industry through the integration of graphene. Graphene-X has been Climate Neutral certified and is a member of the Graphene Council (the largest consortium of companies leading Graphene-related developments). Crowdfunded through Kickstarter, we are proud to be a backer-centric brand and respond exclusively to our backers (which 99% of the time request quality and a great delivery experience).
