Polymerase chain reaction and real time polymerase chain reaction testing establishments manufacture, develop or deploy the related devices, reagents and services, to detect and measure the DNA (or RNA) in a sample. It finds its applications in cloning, genotyping, mutation testing, paternity testing, sequencing and microarrays.

Trends In The Global PCR And Real-time PCR Testing Market

Development of alternative technologies is expected to hinder the growth of PCR and real time PCR testing market. New technologies such as CRISPR, which is a rapid test is expected to be launched soon. In February 2020, Sherlock Biosciences Inc. and Mammoth Biosciences are trying to launch improved diagnostics with CRISPR-based technologies that would increase and accelerate the detection of the corona virus to treat the patients better and also to control the further spread of the virus. Development of alternative tests is expected to hinder the PCR and Real Time PCR testing market.
