

1st Annual iHollywood Film Fest To Honor Creativity and People Transforming the Arts

HOLLYWOOD, CA, UNITED STATES, June 24, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The new level of creativity during the pandemic inspired creating of the iHollywood Film Fest which begins on Friday, June 25 – June 27, 2021 at the historic Woman's Club of Hollywood in Los Angeles.

The film festival was created initially when we saw how filmmakers and storytellers were pivoting. We wanted to spotlight their creativity and encourage creativity, diversity and inspire filmmakers around the world and provide them access to networking and workshops with talent, distribution and film finance. Hollywood is the land of dreams and we wanted to share this hope.

The Icon Awards are being presented to Scott Page for music and technology, Pamela Des Barres for women in rock and roll, Jill Sorenson for women empowerment, David Bianchi for innovation in film, Rachel McCord for transforming influence and international actress Bai Ling.

Invited guests include: Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti; City Councilman Mitch O'Farrell; LA County Board of Supervisors Holly Mitchell; Congressman Adam Schiff and Hollywood Chamber of Commerce President & CEO Rana Ghadban and Roy Condon Hollywood PAL Chairman of the Board.

The iHollywood Film Fest, International Hollywood Film Festival, focuses on content created specifically during the pandemic as well as traditional feature film and mini movie (short films). Due to the pandemic, the festival is a hybrid festival which allows us to open up the festival experience to audiences around the world. The iHollywood Film Fest will be held June 25 – 27, 2021 with over 30 hours of movies, networking, industry and celebrity panels and Q&As, red carpets, after party and NFTs (non-fungible tokens). All films are being screened virtually. The gifting suite and after party are in-person.
