

How to Navigate Social Security for Children and Adults With Disabilities: A Free Educational Webinar

If you are wonder what kinds of financial assistance may be available to you and your family, you won't want to miss this free educational webinar.

NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, June 23, 2021

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Social Security is tricky even for people in the most fortunate circumstances. When a disability is part of your life's equation, though, it gets even more complicated. What kinds of careers will you or your child be able to have? What will happen to your child if you or your spouse passes away? If you are trying to plan for the future and are wondering what kinds of financial assistance may be available to you and your family, you won't want to miss this free educational webinar. The event is hosted by Advice Chaser, a service that matches clients with financial advisors, and will start at 12:00 noon Central Time. Be sure to reserve your spot for the webinar here.

This webinar will offer insights into how adults and children with disabilities can navigate Social Security.

Advice Chaser invited Andy Hardwick to be the keynote speaker at the webinar. With 20 years of experience working as a Social Security Administrator, Andy is passionate about educating people about the different programs and resources available to them. Throughout his career, he has frequently advocated for Social Security education for underserved populations, such as people with disabilities and people whose primary language is Spanish. His presentation will include insights such as:

- How Social Security Disability Income (SSDI) and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) are different from Social Security and how they all interact

- Eligibility requirements for SSDI, SSI, Medicare, and Medicaid
- Other types of earned and unearned income that will affect your eligibility
- Types of Social Security support available for parents of a child with special needs
- What you need to know before you apply for assistance programs

“Andy has given community presentations on Social Security for decades. His extensive experience with various Social Security programs and his sincere commitment to education make this a valuable webinar. If you or your child has a disability, you won’t want to miss this presentation full of knowledge on how to prepare for the future,” said Megan Coelho, President of Advice Chaser.

Andy Hardwick, keynote speaker at this webinar, has two decades of experience as a Social Security Administrator.
