Roszet (rosuvastatin and ezetimibe) tablets

High prescription drug prices are of concern to most Americans. Our Savings Program, developed with Walgreens, demonstrates our deep commitment to making Roszet affordable for patients.”

Sanjeev Agarwal, CEO of Althera Pharmaceuticals

Althera Pharmaceuticals, a company focused on heart health, has launched a Savings Program, available at Walgreens pharmacies nationwide, for its new, FDA approved, once-daily Roszet \(rosuvastatin and ezetimibe\) tablets.

Roszet is approved to be used, along with diet, in adults with high cholesterol levels to reduce low density lipoprotein cholesterol (LDL-C) or bad cholesterol and, alone or together with other LDL-lowering medicines, in adults with a type of genetic lipid disorder called homozygous familial hypercholesterolemia (HoFH) to reduce LDL-C.

Eligible self-pay patients may get Roszet at Walgreens for as little as $49 per month for a three-month prescription or $59 for one month's supply. This program will also be available at Duane Reade stores, which are part of the Walgreens network. Program details, including terms and conditions, are now available at Walgreens and Duane Reade stores.

Approximately 78 percent of the U.S. population lives within five miles of a Walgreens or Duane Reade store.

“High prescription drug prices are of concern to most Americans. Our Savings Program, developed in collaboration with Walgreens, demonstrates our deep commitment to making Roszet affordable for patients. Roszet is a highly effective once-daily medicine that can help many patients lower LDL-C and get to their doctor recommended goals. This program is another important step in our mission to make Roszet widely available and affordable.” said Sanjeev Agarwal, CEO of Althera Pharmaceuticals.

“Walgreens is committed to improving affordability and access for all of our patients, especially for highly prevalent conditions such as heart disease. This program is an important step in furthering our mission to champion the health and well-being of communities in America.” said Rick Gates, Senior Vice President of Pharmacy at Walgreens.

Roszet Indications, Dosage and Other Select Information

Roszet is indicated, as an adjunct to diet, in adults with primary non-familial hyperlipidemia to reduce low-density lipoprotein cholesterol (LDL-C), and alone or as an adjunct to other LDL-C lowering therapies in adults with homozygous familial hypercholesterolemia (HoFH) to reduce LDL-C.

Roszet is available as a once-daily tablet with rosuvastatin/ezetimibe dosages of 5 mg/10 mg, 10 mg/10 mg, 20 mg/10 mg and 40 mg/10 mg.

Roszet has the potential to reduce LDL cholesterol by as much as 72% with the 40 mg/10 mg dose and by 64% with 10 mg/10mg dose. This level of LDL-reduction derives from both the statin component, rosuvastatin, which can reduce LDL cholesterol by 63% on the highest dose and 52% on 10 mg dose, and the ezetimibe component, which gives an 25% incremental LDL drop when added to statins.
