business growth acceleration, today announced the expansion of the company's client portfolio.

Hummingbirds.ai, a cutting-edge, closed-loop, cloud-independent platform is reimagining business at the speed of sight with behavior recognition without sacrificing privacy.

Hummingbirds AI Founder and CEO, Dr. Nima Schei commented, “We are a progressive, outlier, outside-of-the-box, and diverse team, and that has been woven into our culture, vision, and product. Our values don't necessarily align with VCs' or traditional investors' mindset, and we never wanted to limit ourselves to a predefined box. We want to fly high and independent, far from what others may expect from us, to make waves for the next 10-20-50+ years, not to follow the trends. That's why bootstrapping and keeping ourselves independent has been our priority; in fact, looking at hindsight, I'm pretty happy that we didn't hear YES, from those few VCs we pitched. Working with Gregg and the Triple G Ventures team has been bliss for us, as we are getting the best that any VC can offer while maintaining our independence to build a better future through responsible AI”.

Triple G Ventures Founding Partner, Gregg Stein, said: “The Triple G team is honored to collaborate with such a forward-looking team of futurists, technologists, and forward-thinking innovators. So many companies are excited about technology for technology's sake, but Hummingbirds AI brings a level of humanity and authenticity helping enterprises and employees alike drive performance, profitability, and fraud prevention without sacrificing privacy”
