

Clean, Limitless & Continuous Power to be Built Using 'Blockchain' on a Far Field Wireless Charging Platform

A community driven cryptocurrency, bridging a Wireless Charging Company with a DAO, creating a technological powerhouse.

USA, June 29, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Verge Currency with its open source blockchain community driven cryptocurrency "XVG" and Voice Life Inc. with its Far Field Wireless Charging Platform are entering into a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with a Decentralized Autonomous Organization "DAO" "rLoop".

Under the terms of the MOU, Verge, rLoop and Voice Life will work collectively on expanding the Voice Life's Far Field Wireless Charging Platform. The goal is to create and build a novel far field wireless transmission for a continuous, clean and limitless charge to smart phones, IoT devices and autonomous vehicles.

For our DAO to join forces with ... Verge, and Partner Voice Life, it brings the rLoop future of work platform towards an electrifying tomorrow, building the next gen of energy transmission.”

Ilyas Vali

Justin Vendetta, the creator of Verge, when asked about the development, "said he was ecstatic that Nikki* reached out to rLoop to make this happen, which exemplifies our volunteer community efforts and now it's snowballing, getting bigger and bigger everyday. Bridging the community behind Verge Currency, with the technology of Voice Life and the engineering capabilities of rLoop, combines the passion, distribution and expertise needed to produce tomorrow's energy supply".

"For our DAO to join forces with a community project like Verge, and Partner Voice Life, it brings the rLoop future of work platform towards an electrifying tomorrow, where we get the opportunity to build the next generation of energy transmission." said Ilyas Vali

Robert Smith founder of Voice Life, when asked about the technology said "The recent advancements in blockchain technology and the energy markets are all converging. I believe that the expansion of the Far Field Wireless Charging Platform with the involvement of Verge and rLoop is creating a major disruptive technology advancement."

About Verge Currency

Verge Currency (XVG) is a volunteer driven cryptocurrency created in 2014, which harnesses the power of blockchain seen in Bitcoin, while combining the speed of modern electronic payments, to the security of cash payment. About rLoop rLoop is a decentralized autonomous organisation (DAO) that was built as a result of the SpaceX hyperloop competition, aiming to solve global challenges. rLoop acquires, supports, and finances early-stage innovation and research projects as an open and self-governing collective. By cross-connecting emergent fields of technology and making them accessible to everyone, rLoop rLoop a decentralized future of work platform, winner of the SpaceX Hyperloop competition, join forces with Verge Currency & partner Voice Life Inc through MOU.

Voice Life Inc., based upon a terahertz-based scalable network designed for far field wireless charging, is creating the next advancement in the capability to charge creates an ecosystem of limitless and permissionless innovation.
