

Florida Honey Pot Farms Breaks The Norm To Offer CBD-infused Honey With Terpenes

ORLANDO, FL, UNITED STATES, June 30, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Renee Kirwan and her team at Florida Honey Pot Farms are staying true to their commitment of providing customers with remedies from natural resources with the recent introduction of their CBD honey products. The honey company currently offers a wide range of products formulated with hemp paired with other natural ingredients to deliver an all-natural option for over-the-counter pain, sleep, and inflammation relief.

The global CBD industry has continued to grow over the years, amidst increasing demand from customers in different parts of the world as more people realize its immense health and wellness benefits. According to a report published by Grand View Research, the global cannabidiol market size was valued at $2.8 billion in 2020. The report also projected the CBD market to reach $13.4 billion by 2028, as people seek more natural treatment options for several health conditions. In a related development, there has been a steady increase in the demand for honey worldwide. Described as one of the most versatile foods, the superfood offers a plethora of health and wellness benefits to consumers. Consequently, Florida Honey Pot Farms is looking to deliver the best of both worlds to consumers with the introduction of their CBD-infused Honey with Terpenes.

It is a typical case of old becomes new, just as Hippocrates Loved Honey, so does Florida Honey Pot Farms. Founder, Renee Kirwan, is "seeking to deliver the nutritional and therapeutic value of honey to as many people as possible, a move that inspired the creation of the CBD honey products." The company is staying true to the words of Hippocrates, the father of Western "modern" medicine - "Let Food be thy medicine and medicine be thy food," by helping people in

About Florida Honey Pot Farms

Florida Honey Pot Farms is a honey company founded by Renee Kirwan to offer the immense benefits of traditional herbs and actions to consumers to help treat a myriad of diseases and conditions. Renee Kirwan was inspired to start the honey company following her passion for honey and hemp and the plethora of ways these important all-natural foods can help people suffering from different diseases. Raised with the Western medical model, Renee chose to expand her knowledge into Eastern medicine where plants and herbs have been used for thousands of years.
