

Sarasota Kitchen Remodeling Company Takes Safety & Disinfectant Measures to Ensure Protected Services for Residents

The professionals from Sarasota Kitchen Remodeling Company are taking extra precautions for executing high-quality, safe, and efficient renovation services.

SARASOTA, FLORIDA, USA, July 2, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- While the mask policies have relaxed in Sarasota, the kitchen and bath remodelers are more diligent than ever in ensuring safety when providing renovation or remodeling services. Sarasota Kitchen Remodeling is the local company that residents trust. Throughout the pandemic, the business has ramped up sanitization efforts to not meet, but surpass the required standards for sanitization and disinfection measures.

The owner of Sarasota Kitchen Remodeling stated, "We've been part of the community for years so we feel like we owe it to the SRQ locals to keep them safe during this uncertain time. Our remodelers want homeowners to not only receive the kitchen remodel in Sarasota of their dreams but also provide peace of mind when allowing our team into the home." This kitchen renovation business is stepping up at a time when many other businesses have allowed precautions to take a back seat.

When asked about the current company measures, the workers were forthcoming with information stating that many of them were vaccinated and those who were not, wore masks on the worksite. Furthermore, before the start of each renovation project, the team will sanitize and disinfect surfaces. Sanitization doesn't stop there. A kitchen remodeling contractor reported,

“Most companies will clean up when they’re done with the entire project. Our team does it differently because, at the end of each workday, we’ll wipe down surfaces and clean up so that the homeowners can feel safe in their home.”

The local remodeling company is committed to the residents they serve. After all, your health and safety shouldn’t have to get in the way of planning your kitchen remodel or renovation. The remodelers are hopeful that the community will stand behind them and their iron-clad safety measures, going above and beyond the local requirements.

Sarasota Kitchen Remodeling has been in business for over 15 years. Over time, the business has grown the evolved changing storefront locations, employees, and remodeling materials they work with. If anyone knows how to adapt to changing times it’s this company. COVID-19 brought with it a whirlwind of uncertainty, chaos, fear, and constant changing protocols and safety measures. The team here at Sarasota Kitchen Remodeling checks daily on CDC recommendations as well as local guidelines to stay up to date and will be continually adapting measures appropriately.

You could have a brand-new kitchen as soon as this summer! The Sarasota team is working diligently to get the word out about their COVID-19 precautions so that homeowners will feel secure enough to schedule renovation services. Just imagine replacing those outdated countertops and cabinets with modern finishes and designs. The pandemic has also increased the number of residents calling to schedule installing an outdoor kitchen. The owner stated, “Many people are realizing that they want to be outside much more often for their own health and safety as well as the health of their loved ones and friends. This is causing an influx of outdoor kitchens for homes in Sarasota.”
