

INSURICA Achieves CERC Insurance Advisor Certification

Certification Protects and Equips Contractors in the Environmental Sector

OKLAHOMA CITY, OK, UNITED STATES, July 13, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- INSURICA has recently been named a Certified Environmentally Responsible Contractor (CERC) Insurance Advisor by Environmental Risk Professionals. The certification affirms that a contractor has been properly trained and properly insured to better protect project stakeholders from environmental issues. Obtaining the CERC Certification may open the door to winning more business by improving and highlighting contractor qualifications, especially as it pertains to pollution and environmental risk mitigation procedures.

"We are excited to strengthen our partnership with both UCPM and Environmental Risk Professionals as a Certified CERC Insurance Advisor," said Dillon Rosenhamer, Construction

Practice Leader at INSURICA. "Our process at INSURICA is not just providing risk management services, but to help educate our clients on mitigation and avoidance of these threats to become best in class. We believe this added certification process will align nicely with our strategic goal of having INSURICA clients stand out among their peers."

Hiring a properly trained and properly insured contractor is a top priority for your customers. INSURICA can help provide you with CERC Certification to demonstrate that your business and project owners are protected with adequate insurance and risk management resources.

Contact INSURICA today to learn more about the CERC certification.
