

Boykin: America Needs Godly People to Take a Stand

During his presentation Boykin encouraged listeners to live with godliness, honor and courage.

WOODLAND PARK, COLORADO, UNITED STATES, July 7, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Jerry Boykin of Family Research Council, was a guest presenter at the 2021 Stand Courageous Conference. Boykin's message was rebroadcast on the Truth & Liberty livecast July 5.

During his presentation Boykin encouraged listeners to live with godliness, honor and courage.

Many sectors of American society, including schools and the military, are under attack from leftist ideologies that are working to destroy traditional biblical values. According to Boykin, it's time for Christians to take a stand and respond.

God's expectation is for us to be warriors in his Kingdom.”

Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Jerry Boykin of Family Research Council

“God's expectation is for us to be warriors in his Kingdom,” said the general. “I hear this: ‘God's in control all the time.’ And that's right. I know God's in control, but I also know God works through us.”

Through the years, Boykin was called to pray over his soldiers before launching missions. From Iran, to Panama, to Somalia, the general was often positioned to shine the light of the Gospel.

Now retired, Boykin serves as executive vice president of the Family Research Council, which “seeks to inform the news media, the academic community, business leaders, and the general public about family issues that affect the nation from a biblical worldview.”

Boykin encourages Christians – and particularly men through Stand Courageous – to become warriors in the spiritual struggle for truth and righteousness. Now, more than ever, courageous believers will lead the way in turning America back toward biblical values, including honor, truth, and service.

“If you look at the Bible, [God] used warriors – male and female,” said the general. “He’s used warriors in those times when he wanted to make a major change.”
