LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UK, July 8, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ --

According to the new market research report 'Leasing Global Market Report 2021: COVID-19 Impact And Recovery To 2030' published by The Business

Research Company, the global leasing market is expected to grow from $1.18 trillion in 2020 to $1.35 trillion in 2021 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 14.%. The growth is mainly due to the companies rearranging their operations and recovering from the COVID-19 impact, which had earlier led to restrictive containment measures involving social distancing, remote working, and the closure of commercial activities that resulted in operational challenges. The market is expected to reach $1.83 trillion in 2025 at a CAGR of 8%. The emergence of startups as major clients of leasing service providers is expected to drive the market.

The leasing market consists of sales of leasing services by entities (organizations, sole traders and partnerships) that use a wide variety of tangible goods such as consumer goods, industrial machinery and equipment, automobiles and others and assign intangible assets such as trademarks to customers in return for a periodic rental or lease payment.

Trends In The Global Leasing Market

Internet of Things technology is widely being used by car rental and leasing companies to maintain and manage fleets. IoT is a network of internet connected objects or devices able to collect and exchange data using embedded sensors. This technology is also being used by car rental companies to check fuel level information at the point of car return, eliminating the need for staff to check fuel levels manually. Further, virtual key solutions for locking and unlocking of door help avoid management of large number of physical keys.
