Having the safest drivers and service is what we pride ourselves on and we look forward to showcasing that to the South Park School District.”

Charlie Bruce, SVP of Business Development at National Express

The fleet of 43 buses that will service South Park School District will come equipped with top safety technology and tools, which include video-based driver safety program Lytx DriveCam®, Zonar GPS, passenger cameras, and two-way radios.

“The South Park School District is pleased to partner with Matthews Bus Company to provide safe, dependable, and efficient transportation services for our students beginning in the upcoming school year,” said South Park School District Business Manager and Transportation Director Chelsea Campolongo. “The safety of South Park students is our highest priority. With the state-of-the-art technology, reputation in Pennsylvania, and resources that Matthews Bus Company will bring to our district, we trust that Matthews Bus Company shares that commitment to safety.”

“This new partnership marks a significant achievement for Matthews Bus Company as it will further strengthen and expand our already prominent presence in Pennsylvania,” said Charlie Bruce, Senior Vice President of Business Development at National Express. “At Matthews, we work tirelessly to ensure we provide the peace of mind to our customers who have entrusted the safety of their students to us. Having the safest drivers and service is what we pride ourselves on and we look forward to showcasing that to the South Park School District.”
