“Yellowstone County has a robust cannabis community and a sophisticated consumer that has a high demand for quality cannabis. Once this facility is up and operational, the Holy Grail team will be able to meet the demand and also exceed expectations.”

Construction on the new facility commenced in mid-July and is expected to be complete by mid-October.

This location for the Holy Grail brand offers plenty of canopy space for tier one growing as well as space to expand into tier two by the end of the year. There is also back office space for processing, a secure vault and a highly advanced security system. The facility will also house a retail dispensary where consumers will be able to order delivery, or walk in.
