About Optometric Billing Consultants

OBC began as a means to help doctors and staff overcome the obstacles associated with insurance billing in 2006. Initially, OBC started with educating doctors and staff on the correct and ethical way to submit medical claims. It then transformed into an all-inclusive billing service that includes the initial credentialing/application process for all insurance panels. OBC also follows the complete process of submitting a medical/routine claim, researching denied claims, submitting secondary claims, and billing patients for any balance due. Out-sourcing insurance billing is an excellent way to improve efficiency and increase productivity in a professional healthcare setting. For more information on OBC visit claimdoctor.net.
