Museum of Nature and Science that sports a beautiful SciDome Theater that will thrill its viewers with a tour of the galaxy and a closer look at the night sky. In addition to the SciDome, there are also the live permanent exhibits of various animals that allow children to get up close with various kinds of animals, birds, and also fossil pieces. This presents a practical and hands-on experience to young children that are interested in such things.

The Mennonite Information Center is another place that proudly showcases the Amish traditions of the local people. The visitors there can find the unique ways and habits of Amish people and Mennonites. A complete 45-minute tour by a guide is provided here. For people interested in the history of a place, there is Wheatland, which was characterized by Former US President James Buchanan as an “agreeable country residence about a mile and a half from Lancaster City” and the tours here also consist of a running commentary regarding various facets of the family and personal life of James Buchanan. In addition to being a country home, the place is also famous for being the headquarters of James Buchanan’s Presidential Campaign in 1857. A 4-day wide road trip is usually required for completely taking in the sights and feel of this historic place.

There is also the historic Rock Ford Plantation, which boasts a rich heritage and the sights are by themselves pretty easy on the eye too. The Lancaster Marionette Theater hosts various live shows that feature Marionette puppets and it was first established by Robert Brock. For baseball fans, there is the Clipper Magazine Stadium, which serves as the home of the Lancaster Barnstormers. The stadium was opened in 2005 and it has already won plaudits from various circles with regards to its infrastructure and design.

The Lancaster Mennonite Historical Society preserves the historical documents, archives, books, etc. relating to the Mennonite faith and its followers in the Lancaster area so people that are interested can get educated on the topic. In terms of outdoor sight-seeing, there is the Holtwood Dam, which presents a refreshing trip out of the city, and can provide a renewed vigor. Community spirit inside the city, however, is preserved partly thanks to the Lancaster East Side Market, which apart from being a farmer’s market and providing the residents and tourists with a wide variety of vegetables and fruits, also feature fun activities for children to remain engaged. To round off the trip, there is also the hot air balloon trip which is the go-to spot for many adventure-loving and thrill-seeking tourists.
