Trader™, a rapid-growing educational community for options trading, is empowering people to understand how to find a predictable pattern that has been traded in minutes with confidence. This technique is changing the game for first-time and seasoned investors with proven results.

Jeremy Russell, President and creator of The 20-Minute Trader

This options strategy is 100% original, not based on any other strategies ever presented. If this sounds familiar, it is not. It is unique.

Over 90% of my students are profiting.”

“The 20-Minute Trader™ courses and classes teach how I found a specific, predictable pattern, in which a particular stock price falls and rises daily at around the same time,” says Jeremy Russell, President and creator of The 20-Minute Trader™. “I’ve used this to buy options at the bottom and sell them at the rise to make 3% to 15% profit or more most days, reliably, in less than twenty minutes. This gives me the freedom to use the rest of my day to do other things that are important to me.”

“I wanted to provide all my knowledge, at an affordable price, to everyday people who work hard, but could use an edge up in the markets.”

Most students of this system never traded options before and yet many were able to develop a trading strategy in a short period of time that resulted in near immediate and daily profit. The 20-Minute Trader™ focus is detailed instruction with no confusing language and no questions unanswered. These courses give a simple and fun understanding of options trading and the stock market and show how an exact, predictable, short, daily pattern can be discovered and how it has been traded. They also include training on what stock options are (a confusing subject made easy). Mentorships are also available.

“Over 90% of my students are profiting handsomely from creating a trading strategy after this option training, and 10% of them are even blowing ME away with astounding daily profits in just minutes.”

Their YouTube Channel has student testimonials, live trades and Q&A videos, showing how easy it is to learn how they traded this predictable pattern.

The 20-Minute Trader™ Master Class uses simple, understandable language to break down every detail of the 20-Minute Trader™ technique. It provides live examples and graphic demonstrations while easily walking the student through every button pushed, defining every term and symbol used and repeating key principles for success. Most students (many without any experience) are doing real trades confidently within seven to ten days.

Twenty-six Master Class lessons teach and show precisely how pattern discovery has been done and how options trading was used to make 5-10 times more money in minutes than traditional stock trading.

“It brings me a lot of joy knowing people are benefitting from this predictable pattern system I discovered,” says Russell. “It's been very successful for me. The sky's the limit right now- I keep making more and more money every week and I'd like other people to know about this profitable, predictable pattern, especially hard-working people who provide services to others, people who help keep the world turning with whatever they're doing. Hopefully, more people will take advantage of this options trading education."
