Cognitive Assessment And Training Global
Market Report 2021: COVID-19
Implications And Growth*

LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UK, July 22, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ --

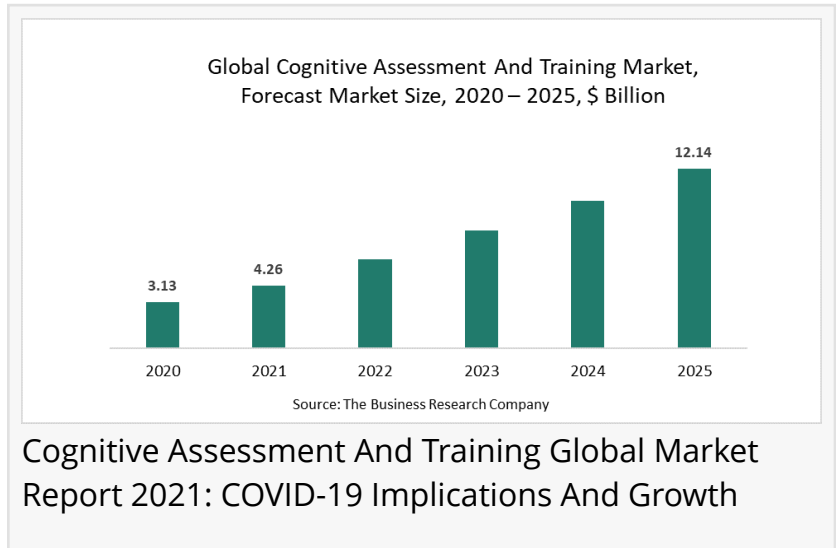

Increased adoption of e-learning is expected to propel the growth of the cognitive assessment and training market during the forecast period. The delivery of learning and training through digital resources such as computers is known as eLearning. Assessments are an important aspect of the online classroom. A cognitive assessment offers a profile of an individual's academic abilities and challenges, as it provides a managed snapshot of their performance, thus helping to track progress in e-learning. There has been a significant increase in the adoption of e-learning, which in turn has increased the demand for cognitive testing. According to the e-learning statistics 2020 published by EdApp, a company that creates micro-learning-based learning management systems, the global e-learning industry grew by 200% at a value of $250 billion between 2017 and 2020. Moreover, the e-learning market is projected to reach over $300 billion by 2025. Therefore, increased adoption of e-learning drives the growth of the cognitive assessment and training market.

The global cognitive assessment and training market size is expected to grow from $3.13 billion in 2020 to $4.26 billion in 2021 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 36.01%. The growth in the cognitive assessment and training market is mainly due to the increasing demand for enhanced brain fitness and adoption of gamification for cognitive assessment. The cognitive training market is expected to reach $12.14 billion in 2025 at a CAGR of 29.97%.
