

Green Planet Movers: Moving from Denver to California can be stressful, but it doesn't have to be

The company specializes in cross-country moves for individuals and families.

DENVER, COLORADO, UNITED STATES, July 27, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Green Planet Movers is supporting individuals and families who are opting to move from Denver to California with hassle-free cross-country moving services.

Established in 2013, Green Planet Movers serves the moving industry with its high-capacity storage units and a respectable team of professionals. The company always ensures to perform at a high industry standard and complies with all regulations – making it one of the trusted moving companies in Denver.

In the company's recent news, Green Planet Movers is helping clients relocate from Denver to California – a trend that has dramatically increased over the past year. According to the company, this is due to the number of individuals and families looking to start fresh after the stress of the ongoing global pandemic.

"Finding a cross-country moving company you can trust isn't always easy," says founder of the company, Michael Kravitz. "This is especially true when moving from Denver to California during a pandemic, which includes very long distances. We understand how stressful this can be for our clients and, as such, we take every step possible to ensure our clients feel they can trust us with this important life change. We are fully insured and licenced with required accreditation to move across state lines.”

As one of the most trusted names in the Denver moving industry, Green Planet Movers offers a variety of critical services to make each move successful, including:

- Backing
- Storage
- Customizable transportation options, such as airplane, boat, or truck
- Local moving
- Long-distance moving
