Health Company Continues to Provide Educational Events for Practitioners in 2021 and 2022

MERIDIAN, IDAHO, UNITED STATES, July 30, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CellCore Biosciences is hosting another muscle testing workshop September 10-11th in Minneapolis, Minnesota. The health company has successfully hosted 4 of these events now. The company's founding doctors, Dr. Jay Davidson and Dr. Todd Watts, are joined by Dr. Allan Lindsley and Dr. Darren Schmidt in demonstrating the innovative testing method.

Concerning muscle testing, Dr. Jay explains, "The methodology is advanced at finding the core issues for a patient, yet simple to implement in your practice."

Over 340 practitioners have been able to complete a CellCore muscle testing workshop so far and more opportunities are on the horizon. The upcoming workshop are as follows: »

September 10–11, 2021 in Minneapolis, MN

» October 26–27, 2021 in Boise, ID

» December 10–11, 2021 in Phoenix, AZ

» February 4–5, 2022 in Atlanta, GA

» April 1–2, 2022 in Orange County, CA

The workshops have had between 50 and 120 attendees depending on the venue. Each workshop offers two days of in-depth, hands-on learning for practitioners. Besides focusing on muscle testing, these workshops also discuss the science of root causes and CellCore products.
