SUGAR LAND, TX, UNITED STATES, August 2, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Briley & Baxter Publications is honored to announce the newest edition of the Grippped series, written by Stacy A. Padula. Part 5: Taylor’s Story will be released on August 10, 2021 on Amazon, and is already an Amazon #1 Best Seller. In celebration of the book’s release and the series being adapted for television, $2 of every order will be going to Little Paws Dachshund Rescue.

The fifth book in the Grippped series moves along at a thrilling pace. Secrets are revealed and lives are at stake. Readers will uncover the mystery behind the disappearances of both Taylor Dunkin and Missy Kent as the story unfolds. Can Taylor’s family put the pieces together after they find Taylor’s abandoned Jeep? Will anyone hear from Missy after she was last seen with friends at a nightclub? Taylor and Missy’s friends are dangerously close to learning the truth, and uncovering the connection between their stories, but their ignorance may be the only thing keeping them safe.

The Grippped series is also heading to television, with an adaptation currently in the works. Emmy-winning producer Mark Blutman, known for Ghostwriter, Girl Meets World, and Boy Meets World said of the project: “I’ve always looked for ways to affect young adults with a positive message in my work. The opportunity to take the world Stacy created, a world showing how good kids can easily fall into life threatening drug addiction and eventually put the pieces of their lives back together, was an opportunity and challenge I was excited to bring to the small screen. It has a Friday Night Lights meets Euphoria vibe. The vulnerable flaws in the characters

Stacy has created really resonated with me."
