Highlights:

Vancouver Film School will be awarding one full-tuition and two partial scholarships to eligible Latin American applicants so that they may pursue the Writing for Film, Television & Games program at VFS.

One full and two partial scholarships will offer Latin American students the opportunity to study the Writing for Film, Television & Games program at VFS.

With this scholarship, VFS is committing up to $57,500 towards the continued growth of emerging Latin American creatives.

The judging committee will consist of faculty and representatives from VFS and ficmonterrey, as well as scholarship providers and industry professionals.

Submission process is currently open and closes on October 15, 2021 at 8 p.m. PST.

Vancouver Film School (VFS) is proud to announce the return of the 2021 ficmonterrey Scholarship. Eligible Latin American applicants will have the opportunity to study at Canada's premier entertainment-arts centre in Vancouver, Canada. One full-tuition and two partial scholarships will be offered. The deadline to apply is October 15, and winners will be announced on November 15.

The partnership between Vancouver Film School and ficmonterrey first began in 2017 when the scholarship was conceived. As with previous years, the scholarship will award the most-promising Latin American students with the opportunity to enroll in VFS' Writing for Film, Television & Games advanced production program. The one-year accelerated program teaches students the fundamentals of storytelling, allowing them to draft their first feature screenplay. In the final half of the program, students are able to choose a specialization, either in feature films, television, or video games.

In addition, VFS will once again participate in training events organized by ficmonterrey, including a 'women in production' master class on August 19 with Kathian Pascal and Fernadna Figueroa, a documentary master class on August 23 with Ruggero Roman, and a writing workshop on August 28 with writer/director/producer Ezell Planco.
