FRR has partnered with the previously announced largest Canadian lab and provider of specialty laboratory testing services who is leading the testing deployment at the 2021 National Bank Open presented by Rogers. FRR has deployed the Fionet system in advance of the tournament in preparation of testing athletes, officials, tournament employees and other attending personnel. Testing commenced on July 31 and will continue for the duration of the tournament.

FRR's Fionet provides fast, scalable, quality-controlled testing and real-time digital results for electronic reporting in community-based or decentralized settings. It has been integrated into LifeLabs' laboratory information system as a turnkey, end-to-end COVID-19 rapid diagnostic testing (RDT) program for testing and real-time tracking of COVID-19 at Aviva Centre in Toronto.

"Our Fionet Platform has proven itself in the field as a trusted solution for COVID-19 rapid testing and real-time tracking," said Dr Michael Greenberg, CEO, FRR. "By teaming up with LifeLabs for the prestigious 2021 National Bank Open presented by Rogers in Toronto we are able to ensure the competitors, officials and all others involved with the tournament are working within a safe and protected environment. The tournament looks very competitive this year and I wish all the athletes the best of luck in their games."

The 2021 National Bank Open presented by Rogers in Toronto will feature the world's best players on the ATP Tour, including reigning champion and World No. 3 Rafael Nadal, World No. 2

Daniil Medvedev, World No. 4 Stefanos Tsitsipas as well as Canadian superstars Denis Shapovalov, Félix Auger-Aliassime, Milos Raonic and wildcard Vasek Pospisil. The event will take place at Aviva Centre in Toronto, Ontario from August 7-15, 2021. Originally scheduled to be played August 8–16, 2020 as part of the 2020 tennis season, the 2020 edition of the Canadian Open was postponed to 2021 due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
