Commenting on the launch, the chief executive officer of AQRE Home, Ronice Harrison said: "AQRE Property Management provides homeowners with all the services they need in one place, set to globally recognized standards and the best industry practices.

"Our team is made of savvy professionals who have a combined thirty years of both local and regional market experience. They are committed to delivering top-level value to their clients involved in passive income, for rent by owner, or real estate investment projects."
