Our goal was to walk from San Diego (in California) all the way to Brownsville (in Texas) to bring awareness to this issue of deported veterans as we're pushing three initiatives. First, we're asking President Joe Biden to halt the deportation of war veterans, now. Second, we're asking for a program to be instituted so that all active military become citizens while on active duty. And we're asking for a full pardon to bring all these veterans who have been deported home back to the U.S.," said Castro.
