This song showcases a huge range of vocals, and blends funk with honky-tonk styles combined from the three diverse artists. The tempo is fast and memorable with fun lyrics and Nelly's iconic rap style. There is a throwback country twang, and a fresh country sounds both juxtaposed against Nelly's catchy rap verses which draws the listener in.

You only need to hear the explosive opening bars to feel the songs energy, the chemistry between the three artists and to feel the uncontrollable need to move to the song! You can literally feel the fun they had recording it. Blanco shows his incredible range bringing the twang and hitting the ultra-high notes while BRELAND's distinct genre-blurring sound and smooth vocals hooks you into the infectious beat.

"Good music brings all types of people together and this track, "High Horse" is a banger track that merges my style with my boys Blanco and Breland's styles. When I woke up the next morning after recording it, I thought "wow we did something really wild last night!" After a tough year for everyone, I hope "High Horse" brings hip hop fans and country fans together to celebrate us all
