EdTech start-up The Teacher Marketplace launches inaugural summer camp for academic accessibility, furthering their commitment to educational equity & access

WESTPORT, CT, USA, August 12, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Teacher Marketplace (TTM), in partnership with Robert Jacobson Sports (RJS), is pleased to announce a week-long summer enrichment program taking place in Ardsley, NY from Monday, August 23 to Friday, August 27, 2021.

Twenty students will enjoy a day filled with academic enrichment, along with sports and games taught by TTM and RJS tutors and coaches. The program will provide free access to qualifying first through eighth grade students. These students will have this educational, social, and athletic experience, tuition-free, thanks to the generous support of The David and Geri Epstein Private Foundation, TTM and RJS.

Collectively, the TTM teachers each average over 15 years of classroom experience, many of whom possess Masters Degrees and special certifications such as Teacher of the Year, Golden Apple Award, TESOL certification and Special Education certification. One of the teachers is even a certified National Geographic Educator. The summer camp will feature both in-person teachers (based in the New York area), as well as remote teachers joining from states across the country, including Texas, California, North Carolina and Indiana.

This program is one of many initiatives where TTM is able to further their commitment to educational equity and access. They believe that individualized, high-quality educational experiences should be available to all children, regardless of a family's income.
