NAVIGATING SUCCESSFUL M&A FOR STARTUPS

Mergers and Acquisitions are complicated and require a high degree of skills and expertise to navigate and execute. Research finds that 70% to 90% of all M&A deals fail, and it's not just small firms, but also corporations such as Microsoft, and Google.

Getting acquired by another firm not only validates that your company is a rising star in your industry, but it can also provide a financing bridge you might have been trying to fill. In this session, Jason Walker and Rey Ramirez, Co-Founders of Thrive HR Consulting, will explore strategies for preparing for a successful acquisition and share how entrepreneurs can minimize any chances of failure.
