In the 1970s, as watching TV and reading in bed increased in popularity, adjustable beds were introduced into the residential market. While users could adjust the angle of their heads and feet, the beds promoted back sleeping, doing little to ease a myriad of health problems known to negatively impact sleep. Introducing KCE Bed, the side sleeping bed created for wellness sleep.

KCE Bed, the side sleeping bed, adjusts the elevation of the mattress from the side for effortless side sleeping comfort. The design of the back side section provides full body support and an embrace-like sensation that is both calming and comfortable. The design of the front side section allows for the alignment of the hips with shoulders placing the sleeper in a position without body strain. The side sleeping and aligned positioning offers support for the sleeper which eliminates pressure points and body strain, opens airways, improves circulation which results in body cleanse and gives the sleeper an all-around better night's rest. Intentionally built with slow moving motors, to allow for the sleeper to find their specific comfort position. Using the wireless remote control each side adjusts independently or simultaneously.

KCE Bed, the unique side sleeping bed, is an essential and key addition in the bedding industry's product list. Invented by Gavin Wilson and Mary Ann Schell, Tampa, FL USA. Available Nationally, KCE Bed ships with FedEx Freight, Residential Delivery.
