The core of the series was filmed at the Old San Francisco Mint, a location that seems more than appropriate for showing the change from the old guard to the new that's happening in the financial world today. The whole production was shot during the height of the COVID crisis, filmed in stealth mode, with some of the biggest names in the cryptocurrency industry flying out to participate. The 34 person crew filmed in 6 countries with the 23 guests that made crypto what it is today. Patrick McLain, host of the series and COO of MouseBelt said of the project: "Our goal is to bring the next billion people to crypto by making these stories accessible to a general audience and investing in a world-class production team".

In just 48 hours after release, the trailer received over 1 Million views on Twitter. The series promises to tell the whole story of crypto and blockchain like it has never been told before and features some of the biggest celebrities in crypto and blockchain, crime writers that have worked on shows like CSI, Hollywood production team, actor-narrator, and writers, and contains content from over 60+ hours of interviews.
