AUSTIN, TEXAS, US, August 20, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Texas Nationalist Movement has scheduled a virtual town hall for the declared candidates in the Governor's race that will include all of Governor Greg Abbott's current Republican challengers. Lt. Col. Allen West, Chad Prather, and Don Huffines have confirmed their participation in the event. Governor Greg Abbott has been the only candidate, thus far, to decline.

The virtual town hall will be held on November 7th from 7:30 pm to 8:30 pm and will be streamed live across multiple streaming platforms, including YouTube, Facebook, Twitter, Twitch, Rumble, and the TNM's soon-to-be-released Roku channel.

The format will be the same as an in-person town hall. Each candidate will be given time for opening and closing statements. The Virtual Town Hall will be hosted and moderated by the President of the Texas Nationalist Movement, Daniel Miller.

Miller remarked:

“This town hall will be an opportunity for the people of Texas to meet the candidates and determine which one aligns best with the mission and principles of the Texas Nationalist Movement specifically, and Texans as a whole in general. Ultimately, the TNM wants to consolidate its support behind a single candidate for this office, and this event will definitely impact our decision.”

The TNM has been made aware of another candidate who has entered the Governor’s race and will be looking at the possibility of adding him to the event.

The TNM plans to hold additional candidate town halls after the primaries that will include third-party and independent candidates.

The Texas Nationalist Movement is one of the largest independence organizations in the world and one of the largest advocacy organizations in Texas. Founded in 2005, its mission is to secure the political, cultural, and economic independence of Texas.
