medicine channels.

Perio Protect is the leader in non-invasive Perio Tray™ therapy which holds medication deep below the gums. Their patented, prescription trays allow medicine to reach bacteria that brushing and flossing cannot touch. They distribute their product through dental professionals nationwide.

QNT Anderson is owned by Compounding Pharmacist Kevin Oberlander, RPh. who developed Perio Gel in his compounding lab and QNT Anderson distributes the gel to dental offices, pharmacies and patients nationwide.

“We are excited about this collaboration with Imbue Botanicals” said Tanya Dunlap Ph. D. Managing Director at Perio Protect LLC “As a leading innovator in the periodontal field, we’re always looking for new products that can dramatically impact the oral health of our patients. We were impressed with Imbue’s strong track record in the independent pharmacy market, and believe that together with QNT’s compounding expertise, we can create products that truly make a difference.”

“We’re thrilled to be part of such a forward-thinking group,” said Tom Bauer, Managing Partner for Imbue Botanicals. “The dental market represents a huge opportunity for us. Developing a product line that can be distributed to their independent pharmacies in addition to the dental market is truly a patient win-win.”
