we want to help make that transition as stress-free and exciting as possible!”

Leah Gregg, founder of fabuleaf

“At fabuleaf, we understand the stresses and planning that goes into switching from summer vacation mode to back to school for parents and teachers,” explains Leah Gregg, founder of fabuleaf “and we want to help make that transition as stress-free and exciting as possible!”

The CDC conducted a survey of 1,290 parents or legal guardians. 46.6% of all parents reported increased levels of stress, and 17.7% reported they had trouble sleeping or other effects.

Cannabidiol (CBD) can invigorate neurotransmitters, boost neural regeneration, and halts anxiety by regulating the brain’s endocannabinoid system. Chronic stress negatively impacts the brain’s endocannabinoid system and essentially dysregulates your mind’s ability to handle stress. This means that your brain naturally has cannabinoid receptors that combat stress, and CBD helps to strengthen them so that they are more effective.
