

Acclaimed Life Coach, Tamara Dalton, Examines What Went Wrong in Afghanistan & Joe Biden's Statements

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, August 30, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Twenty years ago, the mission seemed direct, clear and just: invade Afghanistan and pursue, capture or kill Osama bin Laden, mastermind of the 9/11 terrorist attacks, and his armed band of followers.

Achieving that goal also included overthrowing the Taliban, and steadily the mission morphed into a vast, complicated experiment to reshape a society that few Americans understood.

After a war stretching over four U.S. presidencies, over $1 trillion and tens of thousands of lives lost, the once-routed Taliban has retaken power in a swift march across Afghanistan, barely meeting resistance, occupying the presidential palace and driving the remaining U.S. troops to a single redoubt: an airport now swamped with Afghans desperate to flee.

Despite its military might, expertise and investment, the United States badly miscalculated the speed and absolutism with which the Taliban would overtake Afghanistan and is handing a battered country back to the very people the U.S. sought to defeat, with any gains in nation-building, education and civil rights in jeopardy.

Why? And who is to blame?

See what acclaimed life coach, Tamara Dalton, thinks of this subject matter:

I honor the statement by Joe Biden on Afghanistan.

"American troops cannot and should not be fighting in a war and dying in a war that Afghan forces are not willing to fight for themselves. We spent over a trillion dollars. We trained and equipped an Afghan military force of some 300,000 strong incredibly well equipped a force larger in size than the militaries of many of our NATO allies." - President Joe Biden.

1) I have my own stance in war, I'm not against it or for it. However, I'm a mother of an active Navy Seal and I don't believe that American soldiers, our children and our loved ones should die for causes not related to their country. While I do understand that war is sometimes necessary, but the cause for the war should be justified.

2) Afghanistan war and Iraq war costs the United States to be in debt of $2 trillion dollars and now we are dealing with COVID-19 and the cost of providing vaccinations coverage have already cost the United States so much money. A war at this time will not be favorable to America.

3) This war will also lead to more issues such as: more distrust and recrimination, and most likely will provoke internal movements against any government perceived to be loyal to the United States.

4) American military have fought in many wars, some of which within America itself as well as abroad. These wars have fought for variety of reasons, most of these wars were justified such as getting their independence from colonists to the expansion of national boundaries to fight against terrorists attacks against the American people.
