

NAAMSO Skin Proudly Harnesses The Power of Traditional African Botanicals and Minerals

Introducing Face and Body Care Inspired by Ancient African Beauty Rituals for All Skin Tones and Complexions

SYDNEY, NEW SOUTH WALES, AUSTRALIA, August 27, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- NAAMSO Skin is excited to share traditional African beauty secrets and rituals with the world. Their aim is to care for your whole body through taught consistency and prevention techniques. In Africa, skincare is a ritual passed down from generation to generation. Key ingredients protect, nourish, and replenish the body. Virginia Osman founded this company based on learned knowledge that has been passed down through her family for centuries.

NAAMSO Skin uses potent indigenous African botanicals and rich, biodiverse minerals to promote healing and health. The continent of Africa is known for its vast plant biodiversity. Therefore, essences present in many African plants are used for both pharmaceutical and cosmetic purposes. NAAMSO is passionate about putting the A for African into modern-day beauty practices.

Virginia Osman founded NAAMSO after formulating skin care solutions to address her daughter's unique skin challenges. This woman-owned company is dedicated to ethical and sustainable business practices. NAAMSO aims to support local communities by empowering farmers to grow and harvest African botanicals without fear of exploitation.

NAAMSO Skin provides luxurious face and body care for everyone. Each earth-conscious product is natural, organic, cruelty-free, vegan, and halal friendly. Men and women alike can enjoy the replenishing and revitalizing effects of NAAMSO Skin products. Ancient African skincare rituals and practices are life-changing without being overly time-consuming.

NAAMSO firmly believes that people of all ages, skin tones, genders, and backgrounds deserve to feel pampered and nourished. Virginia Osman is ready to share African skin and body care rituals that she grew up relying on daily. Products like cleansers, facial oils, serums, and more are available for individuals to purchase. NAAMSO created solutions for various skincare concerns such as blemishes and aging. Additionally, a convenient three-step skincare system is available in four different formats depending on individual needs.
