

The 3 Most Critical Tenets of Leadership

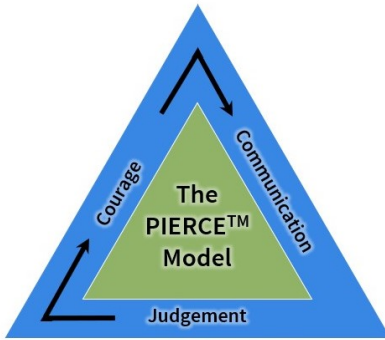

The PIERCE™ Model offers innovative business performance solutions

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, UNITED STATES, August 31, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Performance Improvement Ethics Risk and Communication Enhancement™ Model known as The PIERCE™ Model offers global businesses an opportunity to use innovative principles designed to fulfill its namesake. By adhering to a series of high-level leadership principles that are distilled through the model's example, organizations can enjoy greater performance through professional development and top tier leadership concepts across their portfolio.

The PIERCE™ Model addresses each critical area needed for businesses to shatter expectations in performance, risk insulation, communication and overall employee engagement-- and has been used as a highly effective application in the following areas:

- Human Resources
- Professional & Organizational Development
- Compliance, Ethics and Overall Risk Insulation
- Strategic Development
- Leadership & Management
- Communication
- Policy

The 3 Most Critical Tenets of Leadership

The Performance Improvement Ethics Risk & Communication Enhancement™ Model

Judgement
Judgement serves as the foundation and sits at the seat of all leadership. And it is your perception that sits at the seat of all judgement. Things like accountability, integrity, ethics, patience, bias for action and a host of other qualities are important as well but ultimately, it is all of those attributes that form your final decision or judgement on a matter. When it comes to leadership, it is your judgement that reigns supreme.

Courage
Courage to do what is right, despite the climate, internal or external pressures is what it takes to be a profoundly transcendental, innovative, effective and just leader. To make decisions equally when there is no one behind you, the same way as if the whole world is behind you girding you every step of the way is critical to being a highly effective leader. Your judgement will always be compromised if you lack courage. Thus, without courage, you can never be a true leader.

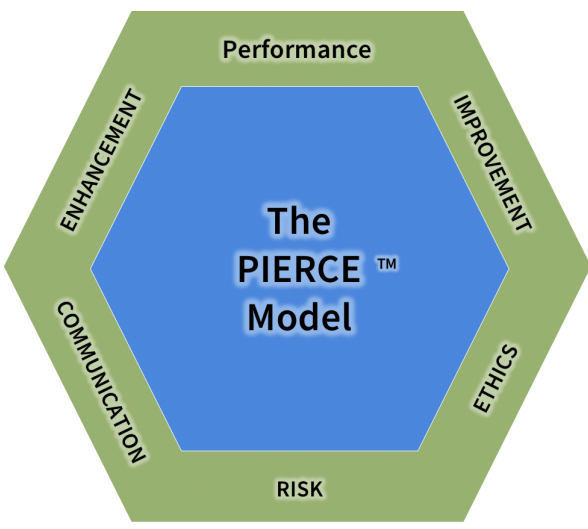

Communication
Communication. It is impossible to be a great leader and a poor communicator. Communication must be administered in a way that ensures the highest level of understanding. And by its very nature rebukes misunderstandings as a result of its content, context and delivery. Quality communication ensures positive change through action. Also, understanding highly effective, diverse and multi-tiered approaches on how to communicate effectively to varying audiences is critical to yielding results.

Judgement
Judgement serves as the foundation and sits at the seat of all leadership. And it is your perception that sits at the seat of all judgement. Things like accountability, integrity, ethics, patience, bias for action and a host of other qualities are important as well but ultimately, it is all of those attributes that form your final decision or judgement on a matter. When it comes to leadership, it is your judgement that reigns supreme.

Courage
Courage to do what is right, despite the climate, internal or external pressures is what it takes to be a profoundly transcendental, innovative, effective and just leader. To make decisions equally when there is no one behind you, the same way as if the whole world is behind you girding you every step of the way is critical to being a highly effective leader. Your judgement will always be compromised if you lack courage. Thus, without courage, you can never be a true leader.

Communication
Communication. It is impossible to be a great leader and a poor communicator. Communication must be administered in a way that ensures the highest level of understanding. And by its very nature rebukes misunderstandings as a result of its content, context and delivery. Quality communication ensures positive change through action. Also, understanding highly effective, diverse and multi-tiered approaches on how to communicate effectively to varying audiences is critical to yielding results.

The 3 Most Critical Tenets of Leadership

The Performance Improvement Ethics Risk & Communication Enhancement™ Model

The PIERCE™ Model for Performance

- Business Performance

The PIERCE™ Model's 3 Most Critical Tenets of Leadership.

Judgement

Judgement sits at the seat of all leadership. And it is your perception that sits at the seat of all Judgement. Things like accountability, integrity, ethics, patience, a bias for action and a host of other qualities are important as well but ultimately, it is all of those attributes that form your ultimate decision or judgement on a matter.

When it comes to leadership, it is your judgement that reigns supreme.

Courage

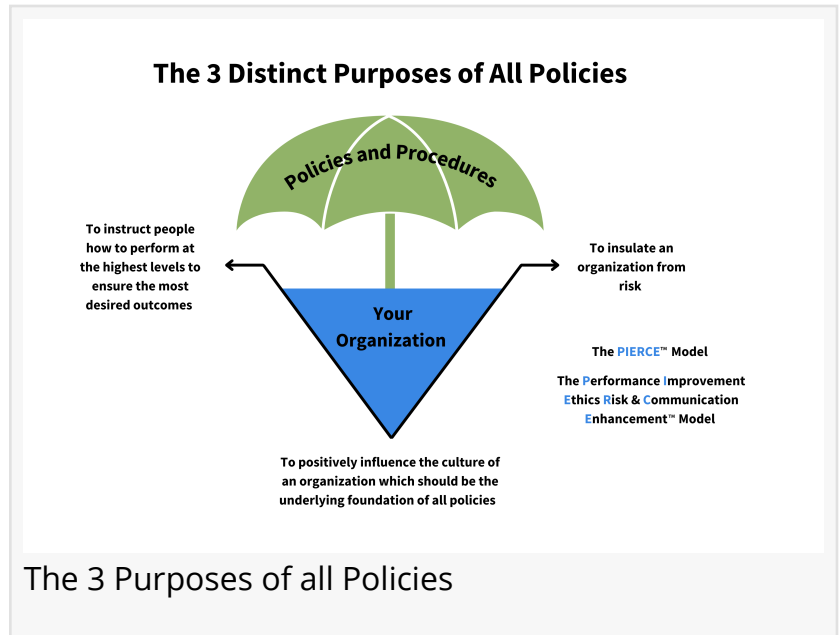

Courage to do what is right, despite the climate, internal or external pressures is what it takes to be a profoundly transcendental, innovative and just leader. To make decisions equally when there is no one behind you, the same way as if the whole world is behind you girding you every step of the way. Your judgement will always be compromised if you lack courage.

Communication

Communication. It is impossible to be a great leader and a poor communicator. Communication must be administered in a way that ensures the highest level of understanding. And by its very nature rebukes misunderstandings as a result of its content, context and delivery. Quality communication ensures positive change through action. Also, understanding highly effective, diverse and multi-tiered approaches on how to communicate effectively to varying audiences is critical to yielding results.

Through these concepts, a heightened accountability posture, better decision making culture that ensures organizations operate well within their risk tolerances and a culture of greater performance is achieved.

About the architect: Solomon Carter is the architect of The PIERCE™ Model. He leads the Physicians Group Practices, Patient Financial Services Office of Professional Development at Emory Healthcare in Atlanta and is a special advisor to the Vice President. He also serves as the Executive Director of All Power in His Hands Christian Mission which is an aid organization that serves and operates in Haiti. Solomon is also the architect of the COVID-19 Communications Pallet for Government Leaders, Policy and Healthcare Professionals which is a communications mainframe designed to bring systemization and uniformity to the initial COVID response for greater efficiency and timeliness in the sharing of critical data. His COVID work was inspired in part, by his work in Haiti during the cholera outbreak. His thought leadership is regularly featured in The Society of Corporate Compliance and Ethics (SCCE) as well as the Health Care Compliance Association (HCCA).

Jeff Goldberg, Sr. Manager

The PIERCE™ Model

email us here

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/550076215>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2021 IPD Group, Inc. All Right Reserved.