

MAGNAFLOW Announces Street Series Exhaust System Preorders for 2021+ Ford Bronco

MagnaFlow's years of developing premium exhaust products for the most popular off-road vehicles translates into the best experience for full-size Bronco owners.

OCEANSIDE, CA, UNITED STATES, August 30, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- MagnaFlow is taking the technical knowledge gained through years of building highly sought-after Jeep products and applying it to the Wrangler's latest competitor, the revived Ford Bronco. As the first option announced in the developing product lineup for the full-size vehicle, the new MagnaFlow Street Series axle-back exhaust system provides owners of the 2021+ Ford Bronco (2.3L and 2.7L) with an enhanced driving experience both on and off road. The system balances a moderate exterior sound with the comfort of a mild interior audio level, while black powder coated 4" tips and the addition of a split-dual exit design upgrade the appearance.

MagnaFlow Ford Bronco Street Series Axle-Back Performance Exhaust System #19558

The MagnaFlow Street Series axle-back performance exhaust system for the 2021+ Ford Bronco (2.3L and 2.7L) is now available for preorder, with shipping expected at the end of September. The system (part #19558) retails for $949.

As with all MagnaFlow Street Series products, the system for the Bronco features CNC precision manufacturing and dyno-proven performance, while offering the confidence of quality stainless steel construction and a limited lifetime warranty.
