ENFIELD, NH, UNITED STATES, August 31, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Retail Control Systems (RCS) today named Kevin Albert as its new CEO and President. The addition of the CEO title will see Kevin take over day-to-day management of RCS, a leading provider of retail management software and hardware solutions.

"For going on twenty years Kevin's been ingrained in every aspect of our business. He's played a vital role in building this company into what it is today," said RCS founder Dave Albert. "His natural leadership qualities and vision are exactly what's needed to propel RCS forward into the future. Kevin taking the reins has also fulfilled a dream of mine; that RCS remain a family-owned entity."

With the pandemic accelerating many emerging trends in retail technology, RCS is well-positioned for growth, offering a suite of tailored retail technology solutions that directly meet the changing needs of consumers and retailers alike.

"With the support of our outstanding senior leadership team, skilled RCS professionals, and the tremendous culture and value system that Dave instilled in our organization, RCS is perfectly set up to serve our customers both now and in the future," said Kevin.
