Exemplifi partners with WordPress VIP for enterprise website solutions

“We have been building enterprise websites for some time now and WordPress is one of the popular CMS choices for our clients. We have worked with multiple WebOps platforms though WPVIP is in a league of its own.” said Vinod Pabba, Founder of Exemplifi. “Serious enterprise websites go beyond design and architecture and require a fast and scalable delivery framework. This is where the strength of WordPress VIP lies and coupled with Exemplifi’s expertise; we are primed to deliver enterprise websites faster and scale them rapidly to achieve our customers’ business targets.”

He continued, “As a company based in San Francisco, we have done a lot of enterprise website work, and we are very excited with this collaboration. Exemplifi has been at the forefront of delivering modern enterprise websites for years now. With this partnership, we look forward to delivering a host of powerful capabilities to our clients: blazing fast CDN and caching enterprise uptime SLAs, FedRamp certified security, world-class support, and more.”
