Invisible No More; Invincible Forever More
International Best Selling Book

Invisible No More; Invincible Forever More was born out of inspiration and a desire to collaborate with other women to bring a powerful message to the world. No one needs to feel invisible anymore. It is time to speak up about your life and the challenges you have been through, so we might all know our invincibility!

“Our stories are about hope, inspiration, motivation, and encouragement. Great book to review and talk about for Suicide Prevention week and month and any other mental health awareness. Helping people to speak up and out so they can heal is invaluable.”

The Truth is flexible, malleable, the Truth wants us to find it - it shows up in religion, spiritual practices, our bodies, friendships, asking for help, and in being vulnerable.”

—Lynda Sunshine West, inspirer of this amazing collaboration

“My commitment to my health was showing up, I had chosen to treat the undulations of my mood, I was now going into a new way of eating, I was seeing a therapist, and was playing in the waters of surrender. The diagnosis I had been walking around with, like a chain around my ankles was broken, and I was living in choice. The pieces were all coming together and all it took was one question, a little action, and surrendering the outcome for the magic to work.”
